

SHOPPING LIST AND BUDGET BREAKDOWN FOR ONE WEEK OF KETO MEALS

This keto shopping list gives you the average cost for the minimum amount you will need to get to make the keto-friendly recipes that follow. Prices will vary depending on where you shop and how much of each item you purchase.

Reduced sugar ketchup, for example, will not come in a 1 oz size (as required for one of your recipes), and it won't always cost around 25 cents per ounce. However, for ingredients like ketchup that have a longer shelf life, you can buy the bigger size without worrying about it going to waste. Plus you will more than likely use most of these ingredients again, so getting a bit extra will only cut the costs on your next bill.

So – without further ado – here is your keto shopping list for one week of keto meals:

*an asterisk marks items that you may be able to buy for lower prices online (e.g., Amazon).

This list covers everything that you should be able to find at the grocery store. However, you might still struggle to find items like watercress and reduced sugar ketchup. In this case, you can either try another store that has more fresh produce and health-conscious options, buy the item online and get it shipped to your house, or swap in a different ingredient that is more easily accessible. For example, instead of chasing down the wild watercress, you can use another green that you like (baby arugula, sweet baby lettuce, etc.).

Don't head off to the store just yet! We still have a couple more items to get. However, you are better off buying these remaining items online.

BUY THESE ITEMS ONLINE (FOR THE BEST DEALS):

- Almond Flour – at least 1½ cup (~4.5 oz). Estimated cost: ~$3.00
- Psyllium Husk Powder – at least 1 Tbsp. (~0.3 oz). Estimated cost: ~$0.20
- Powdered Erythritol – at least 2 Tbsp. (~0.6 oz). Estimated cost: ~$0.50
- Unsweetened Coconut Flakes – at least ½ cup (~1 oz). Estimated cost: ~$0.50
- Liquid Stevia – at least 7 drops (~0.01 oz). Estimated cost: ~$0.04

If you were able to get all of these items at a reasonable price in the quantity that you needed for the week, then you would only spend around $59.

That's right – by using this shopping list, you can have a full week of keto-friendly meals and desserts (plus leftovers) for $8.50 per day or less. (That's three meals a day for less than $3 each!)

However, keep in mind that you will be spending much more than just $59 a week on keto at first. Your grocery bill depends on your local market, current sales and coupons, product availability, bulk purchasing, brand and other purchasing preferences, and willingness to go the extra mile to find the best deal around.

A great way to save more money, in the long run, is by investing in larger quantities of the foods that you eat most often and store them appropriately. This is one of the many suggestions you'll find in our Eating Keto on a Budget Guide. In it, you will find everything you need to know to save money on the ketogenic diet.

You'll be implementing some of these "keto on a budget" strategies simply by following this one-week meal plan. Many of the meals provide you with extra servings that you will need to freeze or refrigerate for the next day or week.
